We were more than Father and Daughter We connected like Friends We talked, we laughed, we confided in one another, we reminisced, we would get silly.....the time together, like this, couldn't have been more perfect. More real. More special. More U and Me. You were always more than a Father-In-Law...You were a second Dad. Who valued, and appreciated, loved and respected, encouraged with such heart, was very sensitive to those things that I struggled with and would make me feel so smart. He loved me and I loved and liked him back. I am so lost without this amazing man, and father, and friend....as my 'second Dad'. I have never been more lucky. I have never been more Blessed. I was truly honored to have known this man.

"Daddies".....Andy, your Son and I, his Wife...your Daughter, would've given you this card on Easter. Only fitting I write this to you now.FATHER...A rock of strength to lean on in time of joy or stress. An understanding, loyal soul, with a heart of tenderness. A mind of wisdom, knowing how justice and love to blend; A teacher, loving, patient, kind, MY FATHER and my FRIEND.DAD He never looks for praises He's never one to boast He just goes on quietly working For those he loves the most His dreams are seldom spoken His wants are very few And most of the time his worries Will go unspoken too He's there.....A firm Foundation Through all our storms of life A sturdy hand to hold to When times are good or bad One of our greatest blessings, The Man that we call Dad.A Dad is someone who wants to catch you before you fall but instead picks you up, brushes you off, and lest you try again. A Dad is someone who wants to keep you from making mistakes but instead lets you fine your own way, even though his heart breaks in silence when you hurt. A Dad is someone who holds you when you cry, scolds you when you break the rules, shines with pride when you succeed. and has faith in you even when you fail.We loved you, adored you, cared for you, comforted you, enjoyed every moment with you, got sound advice and took care of you too. You are forever missed,.....never forgotten. Too many fond Memories. So many moments with Dad....with YOU.

I was sorry to read about Tubby's death. I worked with Hilda at CBC from 1974, so I met Tubby many times at gatherings over the years. I last saw him at Hilda's funeral, but I am glad he lived to a ripe old age. Blessings and prayers to all of you, and please know I think you had wonderful parents. Evelyn A. McDonald
