Greg and I were neighbors on Creighton Cove in Memphis in the late 60's. He was 7 and I was 6 and I looked up to him. Greg was the definition of "cool". Greg always shared his candy with me. That generosity stayed with him as an adult. He would give you the shirt off his back, even in tough times. We're all going to miss you Greg.

Just a week ago, Greg and I became friends on Facebook, although, we saw each other's postings on family members walls, and we both felt like friends already. I have for several years admired Greg's writings and encouragements to his family members, especially his sister's children. He was a man so full of love for his family and friends. I shall miss him as so many others will also. All the family, especially John, Kirk and Angie, will be in my prayers. God sends special people in to our world and lives, and Greg was indeed one of those special loving people.
