This comes much too late because I did not know about Willie's passing. Willie was such a blessing to my life for so many years. Each day for twelve years I would pull out of my driveway in the mornings and see Willie drinking coffee at her breakfast table, and she would wave at me as I would drive to work. It would always start my day off right. At night I would come home late and she would again either wave at me at her mailbox or out her kitchen window with a smile on her face. Oh, how I have missed her this past year, but I have kept her memory in my heart as I will for the rest of my life. She was truly a blessing to me and a true friend, indeed. She was so generous and kind. A lover for all people and animals.
