One year today,of course you were an Army veteran, they got that wrong,only me and my wife Mikki showed up to actually put you in the ground, something that still bothers me,never in my family's history can I recall no one showing up to bury someone,the memorial service was great,.but standing there beside your grave with just my wife and 2 men,from the funeral home and 2 honor guards,no family is something that will always haunt me,...well your life mattered to me,I still think about you and miss talking to you..It's not your problems in life I remember but how you overcame them and lived a good honest life..Rip Dad,thank you for all you did to make our lives better..
