“ You wouldn't have believed the people who came to celebrate your contagious smile and heart of gold and your love for beautiful Zoe! You had such an impact on so many people who you befriended and loved! It was hard to say goodbye so soon! Rest easy my good buddy!

“ All these years you learn to love people for different reason some better than others, some are just for the smile and the jokes we all have. I can only feel a very cold wind, not a chill but a cold wind, you made me smile each time even if was just to get me to go and cook a cake, but it was that smile, now I can not smile I have tears that slowly run down may face, wish I could hear one of your corney joke. I still is not feeling this at this moment, but like everyone the fear of not knowing is the fear. I will miss you.
